

ECU Indigenous Scholarship 2012

Edith Cowan University and Yanchep Beach Joint Venture (YBJV) were instrumental in boosting student Marnie Thompson's University aspirations. In 2012 Marnie won the first ECU indigenous scholarship funded by YBJV. This financial injection will enable Marnie to achieve her goal of completing a double degree.

YBJV continue to support educational programs and scholarships across various tertiary institutions. The company vision is to build a strong, sustainable community in Yanchep and investing in education helps to develop the social structure of the community.

yanchep beach joint venture